DISMALS
WONDER GARDENS

"Time seems to stand still," This was the response of one visitor to Dismals Wonder Gardens located near Phil Campbell in Franklin County. The Dismals has been said to have a strange effect on visitors which no one is able to describe. Many say it is like being in a Cathedral, others say it is like traveling ten thousand years into the past when trees and springs were untouched by human hands.

No matter how it strikes you, Dismals Wonder Gardens is sure to interest anyone who travels there. It is a wild, natural sunken garden blooming amid beautiful rock formations and waterfalls in one of the East's oldest undisturbed climatic forests. Waterfalls, nature trails, swimming, picnicking and camping are all available at Dismals Gardens.

Cotton Loan Program Changes Announced

The U. S. Department of Agriculture recently announced changes in the cotton loan program to make the program more convenient for cotton producers and buyers and less costly to the Commodity Credit Corporation. The changes are procedural in nature rather than in program objectives. The changes are based on favorable experiences under other price-support programs. Beginning with the 1965 crop of cotton, all loans except those to approved cotton cooperative marketing associations will be disbursed solely by Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service county offices rather than through leading agencies or county offices as in the past.

Loan documents may be prepared by approved loan clerks located at banks, offices of cotton buyers, cotton gins, warehouses and other locations as necessary for convenience of producers or by county ASC offices. Loans will be disbursed by issuance of CCC loan drafts which may be held by commercial banks, production credit associations, and certain other financial institutions as interest bearing instruments.

This will make it possible for producers and persons who purchase loan receipts to redeem cotton from the loan easier and quicker because redemptions can be accomplished at county offices. This should result in an increase in loan redemptions, smaller quantities of loan cotton finding its way into Government inventories at loan maturity and therefore a reduction in Government costs. In the past custody of all loan documents has been maintained at the ASCS Commodity Office in New Orleans, La.

The amount of loans made under the new procedure will be reduced by the amount of any warehouse receiving charges due on the cotton if such charges have not been prepaid. This change is in keeping with cotton trade practices and will greatly facilitate loan making. In cases where the receiving charges have not been prepaid and the cotton is not redeemed from the loan, CCC will pay the receiving charges directly to the warehouse when the warehouse storage charges are paid.

No changes are expected in procedures for making Form G loans to approved cooperative marketing associations of cotton producers, except where they will not be required to prepay warehouse receiving charges in order to obtain loans on their members' cotton. Such charges will be handled the same as for Form A loans made to producers.

Agriculture is the nation's largest industry. It employs 12 times as many people as the steel industry.

Elba To Erect New School Buildings In Near Future

Elba continues to go forward. At the request of the Elba City School Board last Monday night at the regular meeting of the City Council, the City agreed to sell bonds against the city gasoline tax to build a new elementary school and to build an auditorium-gymnasium combination for the Mulberry Heights Elementary School. The new building program will be at an approximate cost of one-half million dollars. The vote of the Council was unanimous.

The new elementary school will be located on property already obtained for that purpose on the Mulberry Heights was completed in January, 1963 at an approximate cost of one hundred thousand dollars. The high school is located adjoining the Mulberry Heights Elementary School which will undergo repairs.

The new auditorium-gymnasium combination is being designed to seat approximately 600 students with the gymnasium combination consisting of dressing rooms for physical education classes and activities.

Approximately 1,025 students are attending the Elba Elementary and High School and approximately 580 students attend Mulberry Heights. Mulberry Heights has one of the most complete science rooms to be found in any Alabama school.

Junior Colleges Keep Cost Down

One of the great advantages of junior colleges is their relatively low cost for both the taxpayers and students. Junior colleges are usually less expensive for the taxpayer than other colleges and universities because junior colleges do not normally require dormitories, research facilities, and expensive professional and graduate programs.

Junior colleges are usually less expensive for students because the tuition is low and because students can live at home and avoid having to pay expensive room and board costs. Furthermore, it is frequently easier for students to obtain part-time jobs in their home communities to help finance their education, whereas good jobs in a university town may be scarce.

In the state junior colleges in Alabama, the general fee (which includes the registration fee) for all full-time students who are residents of Alabama will only be $45.00 per quarter (a three month period).

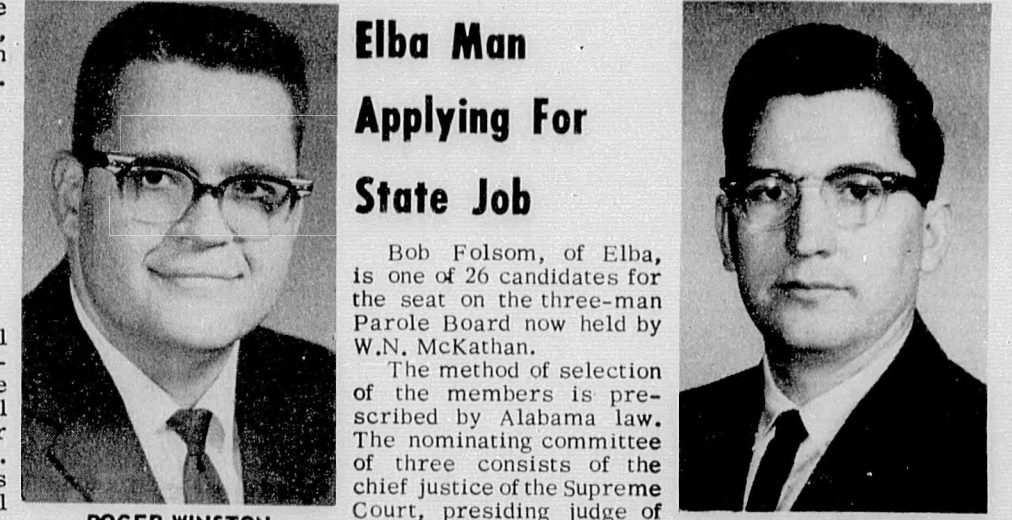

As can be seen, the relatively low cost of obtaining an education in Alabama's new junior colleges should enable many students who possibly could not attend to other college or university to obtain further education.

Guest Editorial By W. W. Simmons

Manager, Alabama State Employment Service

May is being observed all over the nation as Senior Citizen month, and as a nation we must not overlook the special qualities of workers past 40. Real achievements are being made every day by relatively older people. Senior Citizen month is an opportunity to draw attention to the fact that the qualities of imagination, persistence, courage and willingness to take on new ideas and new methods are within the minds of men and women of all ages.

Unfortunately too many employers seem to think that older workers cannot produce as much as younger ones, and that it is costly to hire anyone in the middle and later years. This point of view has created a real employment problem for the so-called "older workers."

One of the most common complaints of employers is that they are unable to fill their growing job needs with skilled and experienced workers. And yet, many of these same employers have artificial age barriers which prevent the hiring of workers past 40 or 45, and force the long time experienced workers to retire as early as 55, regardless of their health or ability to contribute.

The effect is that we are putting millions of potential producers on the shelf. We are treating birthdays as if they were disease, and too auditorium. The guest speaker was Mr. Roy J. Johnson, treasurer of Vocational Agriculture, Coppinville High School, Enterprise, Alabama.

Miss Joyce Belcher, Junior 1 student and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Belcher was crowned as N.F.A. Sweetheart for the school year of 1965-66. She was crowned by Ernest Ellison, Vice President of the chapter.

Mr. John E. Folmar and Charlie C. Rowe were honored as farmer and non-farmer of the year respectively.

Mrs. Ethel Anderson, Ben Daniel, John E. Folmar, and Lamor Rodgers were installed as honorary members in the local chapter. Awards were given to the following boys: Milton Belcher, Public Speaking; Ernest Ellison, Home Improvements; Fred Adams, Welding; Jerry Young, Rural Electrification; and Willie Hooks, Soil and Water Management. A special award was presented to Charles Lee in Music (Singing).

Milton Belcher is president and James I. Dawson is teacher of vocational agriculture and N.F.A. advisor.

In 1947-49 it took 60 hours of work to buy a month's food supply for a school Chapter of New Banquet, Thursday night, Farmers of America held May 13, 1965 in the school. It took only 38 hours.

often we treat disease as if it were a matter of birth-days.

One criteria to bear in mind is-it's ability, not age that counts.

Martin Luther King is opposed to a fight against Communism. In other words, he calls for harshness against Alabama but softness toward Communism in Asia.

Another thing of great concern to the President is the necessity of doubling of the police force in the District of Columbia, following a report which showed violent crime in April 1965 up 25 per cent since April 1964. President Johnson is not happy that this increase dramatizes the rise of the criminal classes during his presidency and it is no longer altogether uncouth, as a writer says, to note a connection between the crime rates and the Negro population in the District of Columbia.

GRADUATION TIME has now come again. Armies of young people will venture out into what they hope will be an exciting and receptive world. It will, for a certainty, be a world which is vastly different from their forebears' world. It is troubled, complex, and restive. Its demands are enormous and implacable. Change takes place at a dizzying pace. The challenges are all but endless.

Yet, at the same time, it is a world of marvelous opportunity. New frontiers are constantly being opened - in industry, business, government, medicine, the physical sciences. In the space of a few years, more material progress has been made than in preceding centuries. And the future will bring more and greater wonders - all the way from homes of virtually incredible comfort and convenience to the landing of human beings on the moon.

The world will welcome the young people who will soon leave the schools and colleges. In return, it will ask much of them. It will, often, require skills that didn't even exist a comparatively short time ago. Above all, it will demand a willingness to keep on learning. For formal education is a beginning and not an end in itself.

One more thing may be said. Surrounded as we are by a world of abundance and achievement, it is easy to lose sight of the old spiritual virtues. But without them, the world is essentially meaningless and empty. This is a truth that never changes - and a truth that, one profoundly hopes, our young people will not forget.

YOUR BLOOD is always needed. Any wedding is news, that the marriage recently of Judith Ann White, 20-year-old Ashland, Mass., girl, was so outstanding an event that congratulatory messages came from President Johnson and movie star Gregory Peck while newspapers across the country featured the story.

The reason was that eight and a half years ago Judith's father, who was then a young man, was killed in a head-on collision with a truck. She was the only one in a hundred.

But at Chelsea Naval Hospital in Boston where she was taken (she is a Navy man's daughter) there was fine care and a blood bank with not only enough blood to bring her out of shock but to supply blood for 77 transfusions during 40 operations which saved her life and her beauty.

If anything were needed to prove the value of the volunteer blood donor programs of Blood Banks and the American Red Cross, we believe the case of Judith Ann White does it.

We cannot all be doctors or run hospitals but all of us between 21 and 40 who are in good health can give blood. If nearest blood bank or collection center you should be, she has a chance at all. Anyway they enjoyed the sport of catching that rat a number of times.

AND BY THE WAY we have six cats now. They seem to enjoy living at our house, much to hear him talk, is always going to take a broom to them, but minutes after he has made the big threats he is found to be out feeding them again. I have learned that there is no reason to worry about him killing any cats or dogs or any other animal as for that, but if you took him to mean what he says about them you would think he wouldn't be caught feeling them or going to such trouble to make them happy at our house. So if you hear him say he is going to refuse to away just forget it - he is just talking and it does not mean a thing.

SINCE I LEARNED to drive an automobile with something to "four-in-the-floor" so many times I refuse to say when it is funny to hear these young teen-agers who wouldn't be caught dead endorsing anything of the past and think of themselves as being very modern saying they want an automobile with such things as four-in-the-floor along with all that modern language about the extras and take-offs.

A NEW CAR is about to hit the market and if what it says is true it could be a mighty popular seller. It is supposed to be seven feet long, cost about $600, go 65 miles on a gallon of gas and seat five persons. The new design is to be manufactured in England. Another feature the designer claims it will have is that they aim to eliminate the worry of present day motorizing service, the repair delays. He reports that the engine will be sealed for life and when it wears out it can be lifted from the car, thrown away and replaced with a new one. The car will take 10 to 15 minutes and can be done by the owner in his own garage. The car will have a fiberglass body, it will be impregnated and it will never rust. It will be repaired with a do-it-yourself kit.

Now all we have to do is get up the $650 and we could be in business. We could try to Montgomery and back on two gallons of gasoline. Didn't see words about the comfort of the car, thrown away and replaced with a new one. The car will take 10 to 15 minutes and can be done by the owner in his own garage. The car will have a fiberglass body, it will be impregnated and it will never rust. It will be repaired with a do-it-yourself kit.

THE NAACP says "We don't want any girls in blue jeans and short skirts. We want girls in beads." That will upset some beards and dirty trashy girls in business. We could try to Montgomery and back on two gallons of gasoline. Didn't see words about the comfort of the car, thrown away and replaced with a new one. The car will take 10 to 15 minutes and can be done by the owner in his own garage. The car will have a fiberglass body, it will be impregnated and it will never rust. It will be repaired with a do-it-yourself kit.

A flat declaration was made at a secret civil rights meeting in New York City in April. The NAACP's project is aimed at one goal, according to a report, voter registration. The NAACP will be competing against the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) in South Carolina. Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) in Alabama, and the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) in Mississippi.

Contrast this with Martin Luther King's project. It is voter registration, but actually relies on street demonstrations rather than making an effort to register with registrars.

Apparently NAACP does not want a repeat of the Selma-Montgomery march nor any other ally demonstration that does nothing toward better relationship between the races.

APPROBATELY LBJ and the "King" are not so friendly these days. One political writer made the statement that Martin Luther King is somewhere in the revolving door between the White House and the White House. According to the writer, President Johnson regards the Voting Rights bill as the "biggest mistake" he has made in his life. The writer says that the Nobel Peace prize winner may find himself on the pavement for such reasons as the thunders of indignation of FBI Director J. Edgar HOOPER who called him a continental liar, and King has publicly criticized the President's war policy in Vietnam. King says we can't afford to support a war against Communism and the War on Poverty. Nor has King renounced his plan for a Left Wing boycott of Southern industries and products.

Farm NEWS

BY TOM CASADAY, CO. AGENT

I have noticed a lot of peach trees the past few weeks that are loaded with peaches. Sometimes peach trees set more fruit than they can develop to a good size. If you want to have big peaches, simply thin the peaches. Early varieties should be spaced 8-10 inches apart and later varieties, 4-6 inches apart.

Everytime that it gets dry, folks start talking about irrigation. Robert Stephens, of the Damascus Community told me that he believes that small inexpensive irrigation systems will pay for themselves in a few years. Several small systems are being used in Houston County this year. I understand that they are pumping water through anything that will hold water on their tomatoes and other truck crops. Most years irrigation will certainly pay on truck crops.

O.V. Rhoades of the Perry Store Community is enthusiastic over his coastal bermuda which was started last year. John Asher, of Elba, Route One, feels about the same way over his coastal. Other folks who are using this crop for grazing and hay are boosting it.

The next best time to start coastal is when there is plenty of rainfall. Green clippings can be harvested in this summer. If you can choose the area now to be used for clippings and fertilize it well, this will be an ideal place to cut your green clippings.

We get more material on farming and home economics almost every day. The county. You should make every effort to protect them from insect and disease damage to insure a crop of well-filled good quality nuts. If you desire more information on this, please let us know.

Just a word to those who are considering planting shrubs during the summer months. First of all, it certainly is not the best time of year to plant shrubs. But, it has been proven that container grown shrubs or balled and burlapped shrubs which have been hardened-off can be successfully planted throughout the year. Late planted shrubs require a little more maintenance. They need to be watered once a week with the equivalent of one inch rainfall.

Millet and sorghum-sudan crosses need nitrogen to produce good quality grazing. Millet may be grazed down the second time if cows are removed and 40 to 50 pounds of nitrogen applied to produce a second growth.

One of the best ways to provide more grazing for cattle during the summer is to topdress pastures with 40 to 50 pounds of nitrogen per acre.

Follow that soil test report if you took a test. But in case you did not, apply 500 pounds of gypsum or basic slag per acre at blooming time to insure plenty of calcium in the pegging zone. Apply in a 12- to 14-inch band on the peanut vines.

BONNIE GILLIS was the first place winner in the elementary division of the Coffee County 4-H Club Talent Contest. Bonnie is in the elementary 4-H Club at Goodman Junior High School. Miss Virginia Sanders, Assistant Home Demonstration Agent, is shown as she presents the award to Bonnie.

My co-worker, J. R. Speed, keeps reminding me that we need to sell heavier calves. Good pastures will produce heavier calves.

There appears to be a good crop of pecans set on most of the pecan trees in the county. You should make every effort to protect them from insect and disease damage to insure a crop of well-filled good quality nuts. If you desire more information on this, please let us know.

Too Little Nitrogen Is Holding Down Crop Yields

"Too late with too little" nitrogen is holding down crop yields on too many farms in Coffee County. Last year, the nitrogen per acre. If 250 ammonium nitrate or 300 average corn grower in Coffee County harvested 32 bushels per acre. Many growers averaged over 50 bushels per acre and some over 75 bushels per acre. Farmers who have a good regular stand of corn spaced 12 to 16 inches apart in the row can profitably use up to 90 pounds of nitrogen per acre. To supply 80 pounds of nitrogen per acre will require about 250 pounds of ammonium nitrate or 300 pounds of nitrate of soda, or 100 pounds of ammonium, or 400 pounds of nitrate of lime.

MOTHERS DAY GIFT of beautiful tropical flowers was sent to Mrs. Hollis Cook by her daughter in Hawaii, Mrs. Jennie Stoddard. The arrangement of Andrees, the "Sweetheart Flower of the Paradise Isles", with its bright head-shaped flower with a contrasting knurled center, and the deep green Ti (tea) leaves with irregular spots of red along the edges make a delightful combination and a wonderful gift that will be remembered for a long time and truly say "Aloha nui loa" (Best of good wishes to you).
